

Help your child become a reader— at no cost to you

Once at Home gives families a simple, fully scripted way to help a 4–7-year-old go from no reading ability to reading at a 2nd-grade level. Your school district pays for the program.

PHYSICAL BOOKS FOR OFFLINE READING PRACTICE

5–15 minutes at a time, several times a week

Short, consistent one-to-one practice that fits around school, work, meals, and bedtime.

Everything you need to teach reading at home

No teaching experience needed

The lesson tells you what to say and what to do next.

Script available in Spanish

Spanish-speaking adults can lead the same structured lessons.

Online guidance

Open the scripted lesson on a laptop, tablet, or phone.

Paid for by your district

Your family receives the program at no cost to you.

A complete path from first sounds to connected stories

Once starts with the sounds represented by letters. Each lesson builds carefully on the one before it until your child can blend words, read sentences, and follow connected stories with growing independence.

Online guidance. Physical books. Direct time together.

You open the scripted lesson online on a laptop, tablet or phone. Your child learns directly with you—not alone in an app. Physical decodable books give your child a chance to practice the sounds and words they have learned away from the screen.

Fully scripted • Built around your child • No cost to your family
